

Cooltex Talalay Latex Pillows

Two great new Talalay Latex Pillows from Healthbeds...

The NEW Healthbeds Cooltex Pillows

We are excited to be able to bring to you two great new Talalay Latex Cooltex pillows direct from the manufacturer Healthbeds. Available in Low and High profile both offer the same great features but to help you choose which is right for you we have compared them both below. Whichever you choose though, we are sure you'll be sleeping soundly for many years to come.

Why the change from Dunlopillo?

In short because Talalay Latex is no longer available from Dunlopillo. The latex that is currently available from Dunlopillo is much firmer and many of our customers have found it not to their liking. Our new Cooltex Pillows from Healthbeds are made from the softer, original Talalay Latex, that you know and love, the Talalay Latex that Dunlopillo had previously made since the 1960's.

Which should I choose?

This comes down to personal preference but generally speaking the Low Profile pillow tends to be more suited to stomach and back sleepers and the High Profile for side sleepers. We also find that the High Profile pillow is very popular for users of King sized beds and those looking for a higher more supportive pillow.

Cooltex Talalay Latex features:

- Is naturally breathable.
- Offers superior pressure relief.
- Helps to maintain a consistent body temperature throughout the night.
- Gives soft supportive comfort.
- Is antimicrobial and dust mite resistant.
- Has excellent durability.
- Requires NO plumping.

Cooltex Low Profile

Based on the original Dunlopillo Serenity pillow but given the Cooltex twist that helps to maintain a consistent body temperature throughout the night, designed for customers looking for a lower profile and standard size.

Cooltex High Profile

Based on the original Dunlopillo Super Comfort pillow but given the Cooltex twist that helps to maintain a consistent body temperature throughout the night, designed for customers looking for a higher more supportive pillow.
